About FemSTEM. Adaptation of the partnership to the Covid-19 situation

The FemSTEM Coaching project partnership has been already working on for the Recruitment, Retention and Progression of women in STEM for a year. It has been a very challenging year, but the partnership has continued to work online, monitoring and implementing the results, outputs and dissemination of this wonderful project even if we were not able to meet in person due to the pandemic restrictions.

Dissemination Activities

A total of 5 dissemination events were celebrated (either in person or online) in all partner countries with the participation of women in STEM and local stakeholders.

In addition, several actions have also been implemented to disseminate the results of the project achieved to the target groups. So far, these actions have reached more +30,000 people.

Coming soon!

Online E-Coaching Programme

The partnership is currently working hard to develop the modules that will address the most important soft skills needed for women in STEM. These modules will be available through the E-Coaching Programme found via the project website as an open and free educational resource very soon.
